

Volume 22, No. 1 (March 1999)

Presenting This Issue

Articles

Silence, Subjective Absence and the Idea of Ultimate Reality and Meaning in Beethoven's Last Piano Sonata, Op. 111

Francois Verster

Intimations of Ultimacy in Major British Gothic Novels

David J. Leigh

Cosmology and Imagination in Northrop Frye: A Further Contribution to URAM Studies on Frye (URAM 15: 185-201)

Mervyn Nicholson

Beauty as the Aye of the Beholder: A Further Contribution to URAM Santayana Studies (URAM 16: 87-96)

Raymond Welch

The Will as the Ultimate Principle of the Human Person

Tom Krettek

URAM as an Intellectual Democracy: Comments on Francis X. Clooney's 'URAM is What I Say it is: The Challenge of the Possibly Superior Sanskrit-language Thinking' (URAM 19:148-55)

Tibor Horvath