

SUBMISSIONS

Article submissions:

1. Send submissions to the journal editor, by email (in PDF format) or in hard copy (send only one copy, single-sided).

For current email and mailing addresses, see the most recent issue of the journal or <http://www.utpjournals.com/Canadian-Journal-of-Linguistics.html>, under Editorial Board.

- a. Length: Manuscripts are to be a maximum of 50 double-spaced pages, including notes and references.
 - b. Anonymity: Do not include your name on the first page of the manuscript or in an acknowledgement note. Do not cite your work in a way that identifies you.
 - c. Contact Information and Confirmation of Original Research:
 - (i) In an accompanying document, give your full name and contact information, as well as your academic affiliation (e.g., university name) and status (e.g., professor, doctoral student).
 - (ii) Confirm that the research reported in the manuscript has not been published or accepted for publication in any other journal, and that the paper is not under consideration by any other journal.
 - (iii) If an earlier version of the paper has been published or presented elsewhere, or has been reviewed by another journal, please indicate this in your communications with the CJL.
 - d. Abstract: Provide a one-paragraph abstract (150-word limit) in English or French. Do not refer to yourself, and do not include any bibliographic citations.
 - e. Keywords: Provide five keywords that relate to the content of the manuscript.
2. Article formatting requirements:
- a. Margins: At least 2.5 cm (1 in.) on all sides.
 - b. Line-spacing: double-spaced throughout (including footnotes and references).
 - c. Font: Use a 12-point font.
 - d. Footnotes: Place at the bottom of the page.
 - e. Paragraphs: Except for the first paragraph under a heading, indent each new paragraph. After an example, when the text is the continuation of the text preceding the example, the first line must be flush left; otherwise indent.
 - f. Special formatting: Examples, tree diagrams, figures, and special characters (phonetic symbols, symbols from non-Latin alphabets, etc.) are reproduced as printed. The final typesetting is based on what appears on the copy-edited hardcopy. If you are unable to produce an accurate computer-generated representation, you may submit a hand-drawn representation of the diagram, figure, or symbol.
 - g. Abbreviations: Provide a complete list of all abbreviations used in the manuscript, along with their meanings. See the list of proposed abbreviations in the CJL Style Guide.

Book review submissions:

3. Submit manuscripts of book reviews electronically to the book review editor of the journal. For current email address, see <http://www.utpjournals.com/Canadian-Journal-of-Linguistics.html>, under Editorial Board.

Make arrangements with the book review editor before submitting a book review.

4. Book Review formatting requirements:

- a. Reviews should be 1000–1500 words in length.
- b. Begin review with the reference of the book, following the format used in the list of books received of a previous issue or the online list of available books. Follow with the name of the author of the review, with affiliation or place of residence.
- c. Place references to pages in the body of the review between parentheses and include "p." or "pp.": (p.6) or (pp.34–36). Otherwise, the style for articles and reviews is identical.
- d. Provide a properly formatted list of references for all works cited other than the book under review (see the guidelines in the Reference section below).

Squib submissions:

5. Squibs are short commentaries that bring attention to a new data set or explore a specific theoretical or methodological point.

A squib should address one or more of the following points:

- empirical phenomena that challenge accepted generalizations;
- empirical phenomena that are problematic for some aspect of a theory or method;
- empirical phenomena that confirm predictions of a theory in an area where the theory has not previously been tested;
- empirical phenomena that fall outside the scope of any existing theory or method;
- inconsistencies in a theory or method;
- inconsistencies in a set of frequently adopted theoretical or methodological assumptions;
- unnoticed assumptions underlying a theory or method;
- supplementary assumptions that a theory needs in order to make desired predictions;
- little-known or forgotten literature that discusses issues of immediate theoretical or methodological relevance.

6. Squib manuscripts should be no more than 12 pages long, double-spaced, 1-inch margins, Times 12-point font.

7. Submit squib manuscripts electronically to the squibs editor. For current email address, see <http://www.utpjournals.com/Canadian-Journal-of-Linguistics.html>.

In your email, indicate:

- (i) which point(s) the squib addresses;
- (ii) complete contact information (mailing address, telephone number, institutional affiliation).
